

How can only ONE shoe can save a life!

It's summer again and forgetting your baby in the backseat can quickly lead to a horrible tragedy. With our lives being so distracted with texts, tweets, phone calls and social media it is painfully proven that you can leave your car not thinking that your baby is in the back seat. If you just remove one shoe and place it next to the car seat, this will help remind you to look in the back – even if distracted by your electronic gadgets!
